FEELIN' GROOZY

Music of the 60s and 70s - The Other American Songbook

If you grew up in the 60s and 70s (or your kids did), you will remember these well loved folk and rock songs. Your kids are sure to enjoy the music, if not for just watching you tap your foot and sing along to songs that you know all the words to!

Gathering Time

Stuart Markus, Glen Roethel, and Hillary Foxsong

■ Thursday, April 28, 7:30 pm

This talented folk group played last summer in the Courtyard. The group returns with more wonderful songs and original compositions.

"One of my favorite moments (at 2007 NERFA folk conference) was hearing... Glen, Stuart and Hillary jamming...with a host of folks joining in on their killer version of 'Suite Judy Blue Eyes - John Platt (90.7 FM, WFUV, New York)

District residents & Friends of the Library pick up tickets beginning Wednesday, April 13, 10 am & 7 pm.

John Ford of the Strawbs

■ Thursday, June 2, 7:30 pm

John Ford has toured and played with musicians such as the Strawbs, Santana, Jimi Hendrix, Ritchie Blackmore, The Eagles, Blue Oyster Cult, Lynyrd Skynyrd, Dave Mason, to name a few. He will be joined onstage by his band.

District residents & Friends of the Library pick up tickets beginning Wednesday, May 18, 10 am & 7 pm.

Caroline Doctorow, Guitar, lead vocals

With Mick Hargraves, semi-acoustic bass, background vocals

Andrew Carillo, guitar, mandolin, electric sitar

■ Thursday, July 14, 7:30 pm

Folksinger Caroline Doctorow received rave reviews for her new CD of Richard and Mimi Farina songs. But she is also a gifted writer and composer in her own right. And if you are wondering, she is the daughter of writer E.L. Doctorow.

"Caroline Doctorow is an amazing singer, wordsmith, interpreter, guitarist, with a rare sensitivity that brings the songs front and center. - Walt Michael/Executive Director, Common Ground on the Hill.

District residents & Friends of the Library pick up tickets beginning Wednesday, June 29, 10 am & 7 pm.

Co-sponsored by Friends of the Library

New Talent/New Ideas

Silver Roots

Shawn Wyckoff, flute, Maria Millar, violin, Adrian Daurov, cello

■ Sunday, April 10, 2:30 pm

Founded by flutist Shawn Wyckoff and violinist Maria Millar, Silver Roots has captured the imaginations of diverse audiences around the world. Silver Roots' unique combination of musical excellence, interactive wit and cultural exchange provides an unparalleled experience for seasoned and first-time audience members alike. Silver Roots has added cello to their duo, now a trio. Shawn Wyckoff and Maria Millar performed here as part of our afternoon weekday concert, playing a variety of music.

Tickets may be picked up beginning Monday, April 4, 10 am & 7 pm.

New Talent/New Ideas

The Kaplan Duo

Iris Kaplan Rosenthal & Nanette Kaplan Solomon, four-hand piano

■ Sunday, May 1, 2:30 pm

The Kaplan Duo delights audiences wherever it plays. The Duo bring to the rich four-hand repertoire a unique blend of individual virtuosity and exciting interpretations. The Duo's repertoire includes traditional well-known favorites such as Gershwin's Rhapsody in Blue, and Dvorak's Slavonic Dances as well as lesser-known treasures and contemporary works.

Tickets may be picked up beginning Wednesday, April 20, 10 am & 7 pm.

These concerts are made possible, in part, with public funds from the New York State Council on the Arts. In Nassau County and Suffolk County the Decentralization Program is administered by The Huntington Arts Council, Inc.

The Florence and John Lawrence Tribute Concert featuring The Ardellio Trio, The Juilliard School

Janey Choi, violin, Clara Yang, cellist, Jihea Hong-Park, piano

■ Sunday, May 15, 2:30 pm

The Ardellio Trio is a new and dynamic presence on the international chamber music scene. The Trio brings their thoughtful, yet boldly energetic interpretations of repertoire ranging from the Baroque, through the standard Classical and Romantic genres, to today's living composers.

District residents may pick up tickets beginning Wednesday, May 4, 10 am & 7 pm.

Ted Rosenthal

New Talent/New Ideas

Edythe Brenner

Memorial Concert

The Long Island Brass Guild

■ Sunday, May 22, 2:30 pm

The Long Island Brass Guild began in the 1970s, adding members and instruments along the way. In the 1990s, a tuba was added and a final trumpet was added in 2005. Today the group boasts 7 members: 3 trumpets, French horn, tenor trombone, bass trombone, and tuba. Their repertoire includes classical brass compositions - from Renaissance to Ragtime - and compositions written for the group.

Tickets may be picked up beginning Wednesday, May 11, 10 am & 7pm.

This concert is made possible, in part, with public funds from the New York State Council on the Arts. In Nassau County and Suffolk County the Decentralization Program is administered by The Huntington Arts Council, Inc.

Rescheduled from March 24

Opera Lecture
Otello (Othello)

by Giuseppe Verdi
with Dr. Jasmin Bey Cowin

■ Monday, May 23, 1 pm

Otello—a man whose passion, heroic self, rage, and jealousy is presented to us in the first few opening measures of the overture through music. And Iago, a villain par excellence and a great love story to go with it all! This opera has very beautiful arias, an exciting murder at the end, and, of course, a suicide.

United Choral Society

■ Sunday, June 12, 2:30 pm

A spring concert full of beautiful music and beautiful voices.

Tickets may be picked up beginning Wednesday, June 1, 10 am & 7 pm.

LONG ISLAND READS
ONE ISLAND, ONE BOOK

Sag Harbor
by Colson Whitehead

A Dramatic Reading of this year's choice, in the radio
style by actor David Houston

■ Thursday, April 21, 1 pm

Sag Harbor, published in 2009, is a novel about middle class black teenagers hanging out in Sag Harbor, Long Island during the summer of 1985. "In Mr. Whitehead's time-capsule-precise 1985, Benji lives on a "Cosby Show" racial cusp between white bourgeois comforts and black roots. He and his brother, Reggie, spend their school days in Manhattan dressed so neatly in ties and blazers that they are sometimes mistaken for the sons of a diplomat or the young princes of an African country by some "senior partner in the law firm of Cracker, Cracker & Cracker" writes Janet Maslin of the New York Times. Sag Harbor was a finalist for the Pulitzer Prize.

Mr. Whitehead, a graduate of Harvard and reviewer for the Village Voice, received a MacArthur Fellowship, a Whiting Writers Award, and a fellowship at the Cullman Center for Scholars and Writers.

AUTHOR INTERVIEW

The Invisible Bridge
by Julie Orringer

Edna Ritzenberg, moderator

■ Wednesday, May 4, 1 pm

Edna Ritzenberg will interview author Julie Orringer about her book, The Invisible Bridge. Copies of the book will be available for purchase.

"The Invisible Bridge follows two Hungarian-Jewish brothers as they leave behind their modest upbringing and head off to Paris and Italy to study and find love... There is something thrillingly unfashionable about Orringer's novel, with its 19th-century themes and its unavoidable truth that history has an unfailing hold on us all..." — Lucas Wittmann is the Books Editor at The Daily Beast.

Author visits are co-sponsored by Friends of the Library

NEW YORK COUNCIL
FOR THE HUMANITIESMelting Pot Memoirs:
Exploring the Use of Memoir
in Understanding Ourselves and our World

The library has received a grant for an exciting book discussion series featuring memoirs from different cultures. Jane Isaacson Shapiro will lead the discussion series.

In our first session, a memoir was defined and how it differs from an autobiography and what makes a memoir good or bad. With each book, the writing style, the time period of the memoir, the culture it presented, whether it fits the definition of a memoir, and what we learned about the culture depicted in the memoir will be discussed.

Ongoing registration continues. Each participant will be given a folder with information about the series.

F British Style
Cryptic Crosswords

With Michael Rosen, computer professional, formerly a senior executive at The New York Times.

■ Tuesday, May 10, 7:30 pm

While American style crosswords depend on a vast range of personal knowledge (and vocabulary) British style Cryptic Crosswords make each clue a puzzle in itself.

The variety of clue types is nearly endless, plus even having solved a particular puzzle, if you run into it again a few months later, it will be equally challenging!

Among the many responsibilities at The New York Times, Mr. Rosen was responsible for all pre-press aspects of producing the daily and Sunday newspapers. As a result of dealing with crosswords on a daily basis, he became somewhat of an expert in solving them. While these cryptic crossword puzzles are popular in Britain and Australia, only a few publications, such as The New York Times, publish them in the U.S.

The Amazing
Uriah Phillips Levy
With Howard X. Pollack

■ Thursday, May 19, 1 pm

Uriah Phillips Levy (1792 - 1862) was one of the most charismatic, remarkable, and courageous figures in American history. Born in Philadelphia, he decided at the age of ten to become a professional seaman. In time he became a wealthy and able businessman and a great admirer of Thomas Jefferson. As you will learn from the lecturer, he purchased Monticello and restored it to its former glory. Levy died in 1862 and is buried in Cypress Hills, Brooklyn, in the cemetery of the Spanish and Portuguese Synagogue.

Mr. Pollack is a local resident and an expert on the life of Uriah Phillips Levy.

Great House by Nicole Krauss

Discussion leader: Candace Plotsker-Herman

■ Monday, May 9, 1 pm

This novel consists of four stories divided among eight chapters, all touching on themes of loss and recovery. --All the stories involve an enormous writing desk that resurfaces in a variety of households, adding to the bewilderment and other worldly tension in the stories. We meet an American novelist holding on to the memory of a poet that disappeared during the time of Pinochet in Chile, an old man living in Israel facing the all too soon death of his wife of 51 years, and an antique dealer tracking down items stolen from his father by the Nazi's.

"Krauss's characters inhabit 'a state of perpetual regret and longing for a place we only know existed because we remember a keyhole, a tile, the way the threshold was worn under an open door' and a desk whose multitude of drawers becomes a mausoleum of memory." – Mari Malcolm Amazon

The Tortilla Curtain by T. Coraghessan Boyle

Discussion leader: Edna Ritzenberg

■ Monday, June 6, 1 pm

The Tortilla Curtain is a moving story about the haves and the have-nots, the good and the not so good. Men and women who risk everything, such as Cándido and América Rincón, to come across the border to Southern California to find a new life. Los Angeles liberals Delaney and Kyra Mossbacher lead an orderly, politically correct life in their gated community at the top of Topanga Canyon. At the moment a freak accident brings Cándido and Delaney into contact, the two couples and their opposing worlds gradually intersect into what becomes a tragic-comedy of error and misunderstanding.

"One of America's most richly innovative and comic writers." Robert Coover
