The Stuart Fishman Memorial Concert

featuring
The Blue Vipers of Brooklyn

Sunday, September 22, 1:30 & 4 pm

The Blue Vipers of Brooklyn are an early jazz, swing, and blues band, composed of acoustic guitar/vocals, upright bass, homemade washboard percussion, trumpet, and saxophone. Their repertoire of witty songs from the 1920s and 30s, New Orleans & Dixieland, classic blues, R&B, and Western Swing is augmented by original tunes with moving, sometimes bawdy lyrics, and catchy 4-part harmony!

Joining them for both shows will be swing dancers Paolo Pasta Lanna and his partner, Lauren.

"Although they’ve been winning awards left and right and receiving accolades from music legends like Willie Nelson since 2007, the Blue Vipers have the kind of stuff that stardom is defined by. The group’s percolating soup of swing, New Orleans jazz, vintage jazz, and country is not only timeless but actually revolutionary in a sense; to a younger generation this will be seen as new, freshly scrubbed." — Leslie Connors, Jazztimes, February 2011.

“I love them. They set a great tone for any event.” — Bette Midler

District residents and Friends of the Library may pick up tickets beginning Wednesday, August 21, 10 am & 7 pm. Only one ticket per library card and Friend’s membership card.
AUTHOR VISIT & LECTURE

An Unbroken Bond
The Untold Story of How the 658 Cantor Fitzgerald Families faced the Tragedy of 9/11 and Beyond with Edie Lutnick, Esq. Co-founder, Officer, and Executive Director of The Cantor Fitzgerald Relief Fund

Tuesday, September 24, 1 pm

On September 11th, 658 men and women at Cantor Fitzgerald found themselves trapped together in One World Trade Center. None would make it out alive. Among them was Edie Lutnick’s brother Gary, whom she had raised when their parents died at an early age. In the aftermath of the attacks, Edie answered the call from her other brother, Cantor Fitzgerald CEO Howard Lutnick, to create a fund for the firm’s families who had lost loved ones. Over the past decade Edie and Howard have found themselves in a fight to not just give aid and comfort to the larger Cantor family, but also to honor the memory of countless victims.

Edie Lutnick is a Co-founder, Officer, and the Executive Director of The Cantor Fitzgerald Relief Fund, a 501 (c) 3 not for profit charity established September 14, 2001 to address the short and long term needs of victims of terrorism, natural disasters and emergencies.

How has “Sandy” effected your landscape and gardens?
With Larry Gordon, landscape and horticultural consultant
■ Tuesday, September 10, 7 pm
Larry Gordon will answer your questions about your property and how to remedy situations brought about by Hurricane Sandy. Some topics to be covered will be: should your property be renovated? What parts of your landscape and gardens are salvageable? Can your soil be amended to assist with salt removal from the surge? Plants: what survived and what we can learn from these plants? What plant material should be considered in rebuilding, given the salt spray? What plant material thrives in sandy or loamy soils?, and the use of rocks to provide support, household items to make your gardens “your own”, and much more.
Mr. Gordon is a graduate of Farmingdale Agricultural College, AAS Ornamental Horticulture, a graduate of Baruch College, BBA. He has been a part of the landscape industry and design business since the 1970s.

Serena by Ron Rash

Discussion leader: Edna Ritzenberg
Date: Tuesday, July 23, 11 am

Ron Rash, in his fourth novel, has written an engrossing, chilling tale of greed, corruption, and revenge, set in 1930s wilderness of North Carolina.

Young Pemberton, a Boston bred heir, having settled his father’s estate, has returned to North Carolina by train to his lumber company. On the railroad platform, a pregnant young woman and her angry father come to meet him; the pregnancy the result of a careless affair with a local girl he had forgotten about. A fight ensues with Pemberton fatally stabbing the father. His wife, Serena Pemberton, extracts the knife from the dead man and hands it to the young pregnant woman, telling her to sell it. “That money will help when the child is born,” Serena says coolly. “It’s all you’ll ever get from my husband and me.”

And so the dynamic Pemberton’s begin to build their lumber empire together, leaving everyone in their wake.

“Serena” is both drama and parable. . . . the book’s homespun philosophers try to name intangibles like love, courage and air, they also grasp the universal, imperial darkness that the Pembertons’ ruthless game embodies.”
— NYT Janet Maslin.

Where’d You Go, Bernadette?

Discussion leader: Ellen Getreu
Date: Tuesday, August 13, 11 am

Bernadette Fox is unique in all ways. To her Microsoft guru husband she is very opinionated; to fellow private school mothers, a disgrace; to her design world colleagues, an innovative architect, and to her 15 year old daughter, Bee, she is her best friend and simply her Mom. Bee acses her report card and the reward is a family trip to Antarctica. At the same time Bernadette, who doesn’t like people in general, so much so she has a virtual assistant in India who runs her most basic errands, has disappeared. To find her mother, Bee compiles emails, secret correspondence, and official documents.

This delightful, touching novel is about genius, and mothers and daughters and their relationships in a less than perfect world.

“I tore through this book with heedless pleasure”
— Jonathan Franzen, author of Freedom

The Burgess Boys

Discussion leader: Ellen Getreu
Date: Monday, September 9, 1 pm

Bob and Jim Burgess were haunted by the unexpected death of their father when they were young boys. This event compels them to leave their home in Maine as soon as possible, arriving in New York City as young men.

Jim, a very successful corporate lawyer, has put down his kind-hearted brother since they were children, and Bob, a Legal Aid attorney who looks up to his brother, has always taken it in stride. Susan, their sibling who stayed in Maine, frantically calls them both to come home. Her teenage son, Zach, has gotten himself into trouble, and she needs their help.

The brothers return to their childhood home, where the dynamics that have shaped the brothers’ relationship begin to emerge in ways that will change them forever.

“Elizabeth Strout’s first two books, Abide with Me and Amy and Isabelle, were highly thought of, and her third, Olive Kitteridge won the Pulitzer Prize in fiction. But The Burgess Boys, her most recent novel, is her best yet.”
—The Boston Globe
Les Miserables

Starring Jessica Chastain, Joel Edgerton, Kyle Chandler
Directed by Kathryn Bigelow, Rated R, 157 min.

The film chronicles the decade long hunt, after the September 11, 2001 attacks on the United States, for al-Qaeda leader Osama bin Laden, ending with his death at the hands of the Navy S.E.A.L. Team 6 in May 2011.

SPECIAL DOCUMENTARY FILM
Power of Bro’
A film by Ofer Cohen,
Featuring Eyal & Ronen Yaari,
Guest Speakers
■ Monday, July 22, 7 pm

Eyal and Ronen Yaari had lived an idyllic life in 1960s Israel. When they reached college age, their lives took them in separate directions.

In 2004, Eyal develops Parkinson’s and heart disease. The brothers decide to participate together in The Israel Ride 2011. The cross-Israel ride, which is hosted by the Arava Institute for the co-existence of Arabs and Jews, provided the perfect opportunity for the Yaari brothers to join forces on their tandem bike, named “Camello”, with the landscape of their childhood surrounding them, as they dealt with their physical and mental challenges.

The two brothers will be attending the program and will answer questions after the film.

District residents and Friends of the Library may begin to pick up tickets Wednesday, July 10, 10 am & 7 pm.

Please note time of Wednesday film presentations. Some films are offered only in the evening at 7 pm or the afternoon at 2 pm.
