LET’S HEAR IT FOR THE SILENT FILMS!

With Ben Model,
Live Piano Accompanist
and Phil Harwood,
Film Historian

The Freshman (1925)

Starring Harold Lloyd Jobyna Ralston,
Brooks Benedict

Directed by Fred C. Newmeyer,
Sam Taylor, NR, 76 min. (Comedy)

■ Sunday, March 1, 2015, 2 pm

One of Harold Lloyd’s best feature-length comedies, The Freshman features Harold Lamb, a naïve young man who heads off to college believing campus life will be just as it is in the movies. Harold Lamb is so excited about going to college that he has been working to earn spending money, practicing college yells, and learning a special way of introducing himself that he saw in a movie. However, Harold soon discovers that real life isn’t all that much like the pictures, and he quickly becomes the laughing stock of the university. Along the way, Harold also tries to woo a lovely coed, Peggy (Jobyna Ralston).

District residents & Friends of the Library may pick up tickets beginning Wed., February 18, 10 am & 7 pm.

THE BIG SCREEN

They were great movies when we saw them first on the big screen in a movie house, decades before DVD players. Join us in Gold Hall for the big screen experience!

The films we are showing this quarter are great films by great directors (Woody Allen, Francis Ford Coppola, Frank Capra) but somehow these films are not as well known as their other blockbusters.

You Can’t Take It with You (1938)

■ Sunday, January 11, 2 pm
Starring Jean Arthur, James Stewart, Lionel Barrymore
Directed by Frank Capra, Rated G, 126 min.

This film focuses on the zany Sycamore household.
At the Sycamores, everyone does just what he or she pleases. The one normal member of the household, Alice Sycamore, is in love with Tony Kirby. Naturally, when the stuffy Kirbys come to the Sycamores for dinner, the event is a disaster.

Tetro (2009)

■ Sunday, February 1, 2 pm
Starring Vincent Gallo, Alden Ehrenreich, Maribel Verdú
Directed by Francis Ford Coppola, Rated R, 127 min.

Filmmaker Francis Ford Coppola directs this semi-autobiographical family drama concerning an artistic family of immigrants whose fierce rivalries span several generations.

Bennie (Alden Ehrenreich) travels to Buenos Aires to find his long-missing older brother, a once-promising writer who is now a remnant of his former self. Bennie’s discovery of his brother’s near-finished play might hold the answer to understanding their shared past and renewing their bond.

Sweet and Lowdown (1999)

■ Sunday, March 29, 2 pm
Starring Sean Penn, Samantha Morton, Woody Allen, Uma Thurman, Gretchen Mol, Brad Garrett, Vince Giordano, Constance Shulman
Written and directed by Woody Allen, PG-13, 95 min.

In the 1930s, fictional jazz guitarist Emmet Ray, who idolizes real jazz guitarist Django Reinhardt, faces gangsters, and falls in love with a mute. He also faints when under stress. Sean Penn gives a comedic performance you will not expect.

SPECIAL FILM NCJW ADVOCACY
Makers: Women Who Make America; Season One: Part 2 & 3
Narration by Meryl Streep, Madeleine Albright; Documentary NR, 90 min.
■ Sunday, March 22, 2 pm

The story of the birth of the modern Women’s Movement, filled with spirit, humor, and courage continues.

District residents may pick up tickets beginning Wednesday, March 11, 10 am & 7 pm.
Non-residents who are members of NCJW, Peninsula Section, may reserve a ticket by calling NCJW office; 342 Central Avenue, Lawrence, NY. 516-569-3660, 9 am - 4 pm, Monday to Thursday.

Indicates a Friends of the Library program.
ART LECTURES
Prof. Thomas Germano, SUNY Farmingdale
The Barnes Collection
■ Monday, January 26, 1 pm

The Barnes Foundation was established by Dr. Albert C. Barnes in 1922 to “promote the advancement of education and the appreciation of the fine arts and horticulture.” The Barnes holds one of the finest collections of Post-Impressionist and early Modern paintings, with extensive works by Renoir, Cézanne, American masters, African sculpture, and Native American art. In 2013 the Foundation made a controversial move to a new Downtown Philadelphia Building. Learn about the controversy and about this amazing collection.

SPECIAL ART FILM
The Art of the Steal
■ Wednesday, January 7, 2 pm

Starring Dr. Albert C. Barnes, Richard H. Glanton, Julian Bond
Directed by Don Argott
Documentary, Rated PG, 101. min.

This documentary follows the struggle for control of Dr. Albert C. Barnes’ 25 billion dollar collection of modern and Post-Impressionist art.

Museum of Fine Art, Boston
■ Wednesday, February 11, 1 pm

The original MFA opened in Copley Square on July 4, 1876 and presented 5,600 works of art. As the collection grew they moved in 1909 to its current location on Huntington Avenue. The Museum has continued to grow with 450,000 works of art. Over one million visitors come each year to experience art from ancient Egyptian to contemporary, world class special exhibitions, and programs.

Free Speech in America Today
With James Coll, Adjunct Associate Professor, Nassau Community College, NYPD Detective
■ 2 Tuesdays, March 3 & March 10, 1:30 pm

“Congress shall make no law... abridging the freedom of speech”

Despite the absolutist wording of the amendment excerpted above, the Supreme Court ruled in a 1919 decision that free speech does not “protect a man falsely shouting fire in a theater and causing a panic.” As a consequence, the government routinely makes laws preventing people from speaking or expressing themselves in every instance without recourse. In two informative lectures, circumstances and other landmark Supreme Court decisions will be discussed to analyze the challenge of balancing this important civil liberty and public safety in America.

How New York City Invented the Holiday Season
With Prof. Ron Brown
■ Tuesday, January 6, 1 pm

True to its melting pot history, New York City has mixed and matched, merged and blended, preserved and invented the mid-winter holidays of many peoples and renamed them The Holiday Season. F.W. Woolworth monopolized the sale of German glass Christmas balls; the small ones were 5 cents and the large ones 10 cents. Since 1966, the African-American holiday of Kwanzaa lasts until the Times Square ball drops and marks the end of the season. Today the New York City Holiday Season is a global phenomenon.

Word Fun
With Ben Eilbott
■ 2 Thursdays at 10 am, March 5 & March 19

Ben Eilbott will discuss (not without some tangents, knowing Ben), by illuminating selected English words, how they migrated into our language, often without any, or more than a minor, alteration.

German: Acht, Macht, Nacht, Knecht
English: eight, might, night, knight
French: dan de lion
English: dandelion. And many more.....

On March 19, Ben will continue with word etymology, and how poetry makes use of language.

Registration begins Wed., February 18, 10 am.

BOOK DISCUSSION
Fly Boys by James Bradley
With Phil Ritzenberg
■ Thursday, February 5, 1 pm

Author James Bradley reveals in FlyBoys the long-secret story and tragic fate of the Navy aviators who disappeared in raids on nearby Chichi Jima (where George H.W. Bush was rescued by submarine).

While the Bulge and D-Day are archetypes of the war in Europe, many Americans have yet to discover the island atolls and jungles of the brutal Pacific war.

Phil Ritzenberg, longtime resident of Woodmere, is an editor, publisher, and publication designer with almost 60 years in journalism. He was assistant managing editor of the New York Daily News, publisher and editor of The Jewish Week. He was a founder and president of the Society for News Design, an interdisciplinary and international organization.

Phil was a Fulbright scholar at Free University of Berlin, then served in the Navy as an intelligence officer on the aircraft carrier Midway in the Far East, and on the staff of the commander-in-chief of the Atlantic Fleet, retiring as a commander in the Naval Air Reserve.

Fever by Mary Beth Keane
Discussion leader: Edna Ritzenberg
Monday, January 12, 2015, 3 pm*

On the eve of the 20th century, a young Irish immigrant, Mary Mallon, age 15, came to New York City. Young, ambitious, and enterprising, she made her way up the ladder of success to being a chef sought after by the New York aristocracy. She had independence, rarity for a woman of her time. A “medical engineer” noticed that she seemed to him to leave a trail of disease wherever she cooked and identified her as an “asymptomatic carrier” of Typhoid Fever. With this preposterous theory, young Mary became a hunted woman.

…”If you have an appetite for historical fiction this novel could infectious.” —Don Oldenburg, USA Today

*NOTE: TIME CHANGE

Wide Sargasso Sea
by Jean Rhys
Discussion leader: Ellen Getreu
Monday, March 23, 1 pm

Author Jean Rhys tells the story of one of fiction’s most mysterious characters: the madwoman in the attic from Charlotte Brontë’s Jane Eyre. Set in the Caribbean, its heroine is Antoinette Cosway, a sensual and naïve young woman, who is sold to Mr. Rochester. In this novel, Rhys tells the story of a society so driven by hatred and a twisted behavior, that it literally could drive a woman crazy. “A considerable tour de force by any standard.” —The NYT Book Review

What We Talk About When We Talk About Anne Frank
By Nathan Englander
Discussion leader: Candace Plotsker-Herman
Monday, February 23, 1 pm

Eight powerful stories, with stunning language and boundless imagination, as this distinguished short story writer and novelist grapples with the important questions of modern life. The title story is a provocative portrait of two marriages, inspired by a Raymond Carver’s short story, in which the Holocaust is played out as a devastating parlor game. Everything I Know About My Family on My Mother’s Side is new ground for this funny, courageous writer.
