An Intergenerational Program

Beyond Courage: The Untold Story of Jewish Resistance during the Holocaust

By Doreen Rappaport

■ Sunday, April 26, 2:30 pm

“For six years, I have lived with the people - and countless stories of resistance, courage and survival - you will meet in Beyond Courage.” says author Doreen Rappaport.

When Ms. Rappaport first began researching her book, the only examples she knew of Jewish resistance came from popular books and movies, and were limited to the Warsaw Ghetto Uprising and the escape from the Sobibor death camp. And still she did not know the real or complete stories behind those two extraordinary events. From the beginning of Hitler’s ascent in Germany and all through the war, Jews resisted the Nazis with uprisings and escapes and rebellions. Resistance was not defined just by dramatic, militant events. Jews refused to renounce their religion and celebrated their holidays in secret, improvising essential ritual objects. They set up Secret Schools, giving their children hope for the future. Ms. Rappaport will do a presentation about her amazing book, followed by a book signing.

District residents and Friends may pick up tickets beginning Wednesday, April 15, 10 am & 7 pm at the Information Desk.

AUTHOR VISIT

Gail Sheehy - Daring: My Passages

■ Wednesday, June 24, 2 pm

The author of Passages, a book that changed millions of lives, now lays bare her own life passages in a captivating memoir that reveals her harrowing and ultimately triumphant path from groundbreaking 1960s “girl” journalist to fearless bestselling author who made a career of excavating cultural taboos—from sex, menopause, and midlife crisis to illness, caregiving, and death. Sheehy dared to walk New York City’s streets with hookers and pimps to expose violent prostitution; to march with civil rights protesters in Northern Ireland as British soldiers opened fire; to seek out Egypt’s President Anwar Sadat when he was targeted for assassination after making peace with Israel. Daring: My Passages is also the beguiling love story of Sheehy’s tempestuous romance with Clay Felker, the charismatic creator of New York magazine and the mentor who inspired her to become a fearless journalist. Fascinating and no-holds-barred, Daring: My Passages is a testament to guts, resilience, and smarts, and offers a bold perspective on all of life’s passages.

The Friends of the Library will be selling copies of Ms. Sheehy’s book. Ms. Sheehy will be on hand to sign books.

District residents and Friends of the Library pick up tickets beginning Wednesday, June 10, 10 am & 7 pm.

Stop At The Red Apple: The Restaurant on Route 17
By Elaine Freed Lindenblatt
■ Tuesday, June 16, 1 pm

The Red Apple Restaurant was a legendary restaurant open from the 1930s through the 1980s on New York’s Route 17. Located midway between New York City and the resorts of the Catskill Mountains, the restaurant served as a who’s who of entertainment luminaries. Elaine Freed Lindenblatt was born into restaurant royalty as the youngest child of the establishment’s founder, Reuben Freed. For her, the Red Apple was the “family room” across the road—one she shared with over a million customers every year.
Stepping On

Building Confidence and Reducing Falls

A 7-part Workshop

- May 6 - June 24, 10 am - 12 noon

Stepping On is well-researched fall prevention program. It empowers older adults to reduce their risk of falling. The program was evaluated and the results published in September 2004 issue of the Journal of American Geriatrics Society. In this study, Dr. Lindy Clemson, an occupational therapist in Australia, found that those completing Stepping On experienced a 31% reduction in falls. North Shore/LIJ Health System purchased the license for the program and had health professionals specially trained to become Master Leaders.

The series consists of seven workshops; once a week for two hours. Two trained leaders facilitate the classes. Classes are highly participatory with sharing of mutual support and success that builds participants’ confidence in their ability to reduce the risk of falls and maintain active and fulfilling lives.

ELIGIBILITY: 60 years or over, not suffering from dementia, walking independently or using a cane, are at risk of falling, have a fear of falling, have fallen one or more times.

District residents may register beginning Wednesday, April 22, 10 am. In-person registration required. You will be required to fill out a form at time of registration.

Workshop is limited to 15 persons.

VA staff will assist in the application process, also offer veterans hypertension screenings, and provide first-time physical exams for new VA enrollees.

Pre-registration is encouraged. Please call 631-261-4400 to register.

VA ID cards are issued for veterans eligible for VA healthcare. This card is not the same as those issued by the Nassau County Veterans Services Agency. Please bring a copy of your DD214/military separation papers or discharge papers.

The Life and Legacy

Primo Levi

With Prof. Stanislao Pugliese

- Thursday, April 16, 7 pm

Writer Primo Levi (1919-1987), an Italian Jew, did not come to the wide attention of the English-reading audience until the last years of his life. A Holocaust survivor, Levi’s The Periodic Table is his most famous book. As a chemist, Levy used the elements as metaphors to create a story composed of somewhat autobiographical tales and stories of the Piedmontese Jewish community and his response to the Holocaust.

The Recent Israeli Election: What It Means

With Rabbi Bruce Ginsburg

- Thursday, April 23, 7 pm

By April 23, Israelis will have cast their votes for a new government. Will their collective decision represent a shift to the left or right? How will it affect the Israeli/Arab conflict, the US/Israel relationship, the religious/secular divide, and the American Jewish community’s attachment to the Jewish State? These are among the questions to be explored in this “post-game” evaluation of the recent Israeli election.

ART LECTURES WITH PROF. THOMAS GERMANO

Isabella Stewart Gardner Museum

- Monday, April 6, 1 pm

Isabella Stewart Gardner (1840-1924) was one of the foremost female patrons of the arts. She was a patron and friend of leading artists and writers of her time, including John Singer Sargent, James McNeill Whistler, Bernard Berenson, and Henry James.

Yale University Art Gallery

- Monday, May 11, 11 am*

The Yale University Art Gallery’s permanent collection was founded in 1832 when the patriot-artist John Trumbull gave more than 100 of his paintings to Yale College. Since that time, the collection has grown to number more than 200,000 objects representing Eastern and Western cultures and ranging in date from ancient times to the present day.

* Note time change

The Cloisters Museum

- Tuesday, June 23, 1 pm

The Cloisters museum and gardens is the Medieval branch of The Metropolitan Museum of Art. The architecture is as much the museum as are the roughly 2,000 objects contained within. The Cloisters is devoted to the art and architecture of medieval Europe, assembled from architectural elements, both domestic and religious, that largely date from the twelfth through the fifteenth century.

FILMMAKER VISIT

112 Weddings, a documentary by filmmaker Doug Block, “51 Birch Street”, 95 min.
- Thursday, May 7, 7 pm

  In his new film 112 Weddings, Doug Block revisits nine couples whose weddings he filmed over the course of two decades.

  Twenty years ago, a friend offered him a one-time gig shooting a wedding. Block, an independent filmmaker, needed the cash. But the job appealed to him as an artist, too. Shooting a wedding was his chance to be a fly-on-the-wall witness as the wedding took place. He took the job, shooting the nuptials in a documentary-style, with little editing afterwards. For 20 years he continued to film weddings to support his projects.

  Doug Block begins to wonder: what happened to his clients after the band had packed up, the caterers cleared out and married life began? 112 Weddings goes back to these couples many years later, to see how married life is going. The film is touching, funny, sad, hopeful, and unforgettable. Throughout the movie we witness yet another young couple preparing for their wedding day, with Doug documenting it all.

  District residents may pick up tickets beginning Thursday, April 23, 10 am & 7 pm.

Norwegian by Night

Sheldon Horowitz is an 82-year-old widower with health issues. Too young at the time for WWII, he volunteered for Korea but always felt he had missed his moment as a man and a soldier. He leaves New York to live in Oslo with the granddaughter he raised, and her husband. The upstairs neighbor, with her son, flees a violent man. Looking at the situation, he is reminded of the Europeans who did the same and kept their doors locked. This might be his final chance to do good and save someone.

"Has the brains of a literary novel and the body of a thriller."
— New York Times

Frankie Rowley has come home after 15 years of working in East Africa. She returns to the farm and small town in New Hampshire where her family spent their summers. On her first night back a house up the road burns to the ground, then another, and another; always a house belonging to summer people. A town where no one bothers to lock their doors, neighbors begin to regard one another with suspicion. Frankie has also begun a relationship with editor of the local paper, filled with tenderness and its own risks.

"Entertaining and highly readable . . . Miller’s scenes are terrific . . . Fantastic sizzle, both sexual and spiritual . . . A cracking good romance . . . Will keep you reading."
— Boston Globe

The Museum of Extraordinary Things
by Alice Hoffman
This year’s selection for LI Reads and South Shore Reads
Discussion leader: Edna Ritzenberg
- Wednesday*, April 8, 1 pm

The Museum of Extraordinary Things is a lavish tale about strange but sympathetic people with haunting pasts and lives lived in strange circumstances. The museum is a Coney Island boardwalk attraction. Its proprietor, the mad scientist, shrewd magician Professor Sardie showcases his own daughter Coralie, who since the age of 10 has been suspended in a tank of water playing a Mermaid. Now 18 years old and on one of her nocturnal, long distance swims in the ocean she catches a glimpse of a reclusive photographer named Ezekiel Cohen, who likes to take nocturnal walks with his dog. Coralie and the photographer’s profound, mystical attraction relationship drives this story forward.

"Fans of Hoffman will not be disappointed. Lush imagery, extensive use of period details, well-drawn, and vivid prose make this a sumptuous read...a rich reading experience."
— The Seattle Times
